

New colour scheme for Y Tŵr!

Choosing a colour for a building as iconic as Y Tŵr is no small task – which is why we asked the public to help. We're thrilled to share that over 900 people took the time to vote and share their thoughts. Thank you for being part of the process. The overwhelming feedback was clear: people wanted a cheerful, eye-catching colour that would brighten the high street. Dark greys and blues should be avoided and yellow was clearly the most popular choice. To honour the preference while staying true to Y Tŵr's official colour palette, we've selected a rich golden hue as the main colour. To highlight the building's architectural features, two complementary tones will also be used – a deeper shade that echoes the colour of the logo, and a subtle light tone that enhances the building's historic character. We're excited for this next chapter in Y Tŵr's story – and it wouldn't have been possible without your input

Bonus Ball Menter y Tŵr

We'd like to extend our sincere thanks to Dawn Sweetman-Jones for generously volunteering to run a weekly Bonus Ball fundraiser in support of Y Tŵr. Thanks to her efforts—and the enthusiastic response from our supporters—all the numbers were snapped up within hours of being advertised. This simple and effective fundraiser sees participants paying £2 per number each week, with payments made in advance for 10-week blocks. The winning number matches the National Lottery's Bonus Ball, making the process straightforward and transparent. Thank you, Dawn, and everyone who has taken part in supporting Y Tŵr!

An update on the building work

Since the start of the year, it's been hard to imagine what's going on behind the boards covering the front of Y Tŵr. While the building has been out of public view, an incredible amount of work has been going on. We thank the skilled team at D.R. Williams who have been working tirelessly and as the site has been closed to the public for safety reasons, we are grateful for the regularly updates and photos received by the builders showing the progress including roofing and lead work, new guttering, dormer windows, and Velux installations. Wherever possible, the team have taken care to renovate and reuse existing materials, combining craftsmanship with a sustainable approach. The results so far are a credit to their dedication and expertise – and we can't wait to show you what's next!

The new roof is looking good.

Renovated windows ready for paint.

Guttering and downpipes fitted.

Dormer windows completed
